TANZI PROPST/PARK RECORD

For nearly a decade, Dressed Design has been doing interiors in Park City's luxury homes. With offices here as well in Los Angeles they are able to work on commercial and residential design, for projects in luxury developments, homes, estates and five-star hotels.

They've worked at 15 private residences at The Montage Deer Valley, as well as homes at Silver Star, The Belles at Empire Pass and Hideout Canyon. Besides interior design, they provide staging, fine art curation, temporary furnishings and other architectural services.

Staging always increases the price for sellers, and reduces the time on the real estate market, too, and especially now with such a hot market. Putting just the right object in just the right place can make all of the difference. Dressed Design describes their style as "Simple, chic, sophisticated."
